What information do we receive from third parties?

As part of your application as a future student at Swansea University, we may receive your application or other information about your application from external sources. Sources include, though not limited to, the following:

Data we may receive	Source
Application data, which includes contact details and attainment, work experience, previous institution, contextual data and disability information	UCAS, Research Scholarship Projects such as M2A, KESS II and the UK Research Councils, The College, Erasmus, CAB, Kaplan and/or other Higher Education Institutions, if for example, your programme of study involves spending a period at an institution outside Swansea University.
References	Your chosen referee.
Your immigration status and history	Home Office (UKVI), Foreign and Commonwealth Office.

Transcripts (details of programmes undertaken or being undertaken at another institution, and your attainment)	Awarding bodies, HEDD, another institution and/or secondary schools.
Clearance confirmation	DBS, Police Checks, ATAS, NHS
Eligibility for The College or Swansea University	The College, Swansea University is a joint venture between Swansea University and Navitas, delivering pathway courses. The College, Swansea University is the successor to the embedded college of Swansea University, which was known as International College Wales Swansea (ICWS). If a student does not meet The College's entrance requirements for courses, then they may be eligible for study at Swansea University instead. The application is therefore shared from The College to Swansea University for processing.

Who receives your information?

Unless required by law, your data will not be shared with any organisations outside the University. However, where necessary, personal information will be shared to support and provide a service of the recruitment and admissions process.

This section outlines the major organisations and the most common circumstances in which we disclose information about students. Where this involves international transfer, information will only be transferred if it meets the conditions set down under current Data Protection Legislation. Sources include, though are not limited to, the following:

Data we may share	Recipients
Enquiries (or expressions of data)	We may share your enquiry internally to the University college so that they can respond to your enquiry.
Application data, which includes contact details and attainment, work experience, previous institution, contextual data and disability information	We may share your application internally to the University colleges so that they can assess your eligibility as a future Swansea student.
Information relating to Immigration Matters (where required)	The University is licensed to sponsor migrant students under a points-based system. The University will provide data to the Home Office to obtain a Confirmation of Acceptance for Study (CAS) number. A CAS number enables students to apply for a Student Visa. The University will also provide data about students on a Student Visa, to the Home Office and its departments, to fulfil its duties under its licence.

Any other disclosures that the University makes will be in accordance with Data Protection Legislation and UK GDPR, and your interests will be considered.

International Transfer of Your Information

We do not normally transfer any of your personal data outside the EU. Should any transfers occur, we ensure a similar degree of protection is afforded to it by ensuring at least one of the following safeguards:

- We will only transfer your personal data to countries that have been deemed to provide an adequate level of protection for personal data by the European Commission. For further details, see European Commission: Adequacy of the protection of personal data in non-EU countries.
- Where there is a legally binding agreement between public authorities or bodies.
- Where we use certain service providers, we may use specific contracts approved by the European Commission which give personal data the same protection it has in Europe. For further details, see European Commission: Model contracts for the transfer of personal data to third countries.
- Where we use providers based in the US, we may transfer data to them if they are part of the Privacy Shield which requires them to provide similar protection to personal data shared between the Europe and the US. For further details, see European Commission: EU-US Privacy Shield.

Please contact our Data Protection Officer if you want further information on the specific mechanism used by us when transferring your personal data out of the EU

How long will your information be held?

Security of your information

Data Protection legislation requires us to keep your information secure. This means that your confidentiality will be respected, and all appropriate measures will be taken to prevent unauthorised access and disclosure. Only members of staff who need access to relevant parts or all your information will be authorised to do so. Information about you in electronic form will be subject to password and other security restrictions, while paper files will be stored in secure areas with controlled access.

Some processing may be undertaken on the University's behalf by an organisation contracted for that purpose. Organisations processing personal data on the University's behalf will be bound by a contractual obligation to process personal data in accordance with Data Protection legislation.

What are your rights?

You have a right to access your personal information, to object to the processing of your personal information, to rectify, to erase, to restrict and to port your personal information. If you have provided consent to the Swansea University to process any of your data, then you also have a right to withdraw that consent. Please visit the University Data Protection webpages for further information in relation to your rights.
